HERZ HORSES RACING WELL

AHARA ADDS ANOTHER TO THE GOOD LIST OF RACES TAKEN AT BOWIE.

Jaquetta Wins for Tony Aste—Dakota Takes a Long Runaway on His Way to the Post—Gossip of the Track.

Baltimore, Md., November 22.—Emil Herz, whose stable has been much in the limelight during the Bowie meeting, scored another victory this afternoon when Ahara won the Terminal Purse, an allowance race for all ages at seven-eighths. Ahara was ridden by Tutwell, followed the pacemaker closely to the sixteenth post, slipped through on the inside and finishing fast, won going away. Ahara is a good-looking colt by Voorhees—Handsome Flora and is highly thought of by his owner. He will be one of the big string that Mr. Herz will ship south to take part in the winter meeting at New Orleans.

A. L. Aste furnished the winner of the opener, a dash of five and a half furlongs for maiden two-year-olds. In his home-bred filly Jaquetta, outran in the first quarter Jaquetta went around her opponents with a rush on the turn out of the backstretch, but tired slightly after drawing away into a lead and at the finish had to be ridden out.

Mr. Aste came down from New York to see the filly run.

After many disappointments, Favour finally made good when she won the second race in runaway fashion.

Dakota, a starter in the third race, got the better of Jockey Parrington while on the way to the post and ran away three miles before he was caught by one of the assistant starters. When the start then came Parrington pulled Dakota up and he cantered in behind his opponents.

W. Porter, well and favorably known to racegoers through his connections with many prominent horsemen and who raced a stable himself a few years back, was much wrought up this afternoon over a tipster's advertisement that appeared in a newspaper to which his name was signed. Mr. Porter wants his friends to know that he has no connection with any tipping concern and that he has taken measures to have the matter investigated by the local authorities.

Emil Herz will add Trovato and Important to the sale of horses in training that is to be conducted in the paddock racing the races Wednesday.

J. S. Ounbey received a cablegram from M. Murphy today announcing the safe arrival in Havana of the string that he will campaign there next winter. In the string are Wanda Pitzer, Carlton G. and other useful ones.

"Uncle Jimmie" Gray has announced that at the end of the present campaign he will ship his string to his Oklahoma farm, where he has eleven yearlings that will keep him busy through the cold months. They are by Mint, a Rock Sand stallion.

Charles Lansdale, one of the Havana officials, will leave for Havana Monday.

John O. Talbot will ship the seventeen horses in his string now in training to Palm Beach Park at Charleston Monday, and they will go into winter quarters there.

W. L. Oliver has a promising two-year-old in Ed Bond, a son of the Rock Sand stallion Mint and La Dotta. To reach third place in the race for maidens, he overcame no end of interference and with better luck he probably would have been the winner.

Jockey Metcalf was suspended for three days for disobedience at the post on Immune in the first race.

SAGACIOUS NEW YORK BREEDERS.

Genesee Valley Farmers Plan to Make Their Section a Home for the Thoroughbred.

New York, November 22.—Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth and those associated with her in the Genesee Valley Horse Breeders' Association have in view the establishment of a plan whereby the region in which her famous Ashantee Stud will be located will become the Ireland of America through the production of thoroughbred and half-bred hunters, cavalry remounts and saddle horses of quality.

From the time the breeding bureau of the Jockey Club was established several thoroughbred stallions have stood in the valley, and their influence on the horse product of the section has been marked. Shot Gun, Goodrich and other stallions of size and quality have been liberally patronized by the farmers, and last season August Belmont donated Wonder Boy, by Watereress out of Donna de Oro, by Raveon d'Or, and Merry Task, by Octagon, dam Merry Token, by Merry Hampton, the former untrained because of his remarkable size, and the latter a good winner of four races in England. In addition to these, the farmer had an opportunity to breed to the good horse Otis, by Salm or Foul Shot, dam Laura Agnes, by Jils Johnson, purchased in Kentucky by Mrs. Wadsworth herself.

The Genesee valley is thirty-five miles long and about twelve miles at its widest point, and it is a matter of record that no richer farming community exists in the United States. There are pastures that have never known a plow, the purest of spring water percolates through the limestone, and as a grazing country it cannot be surpassed. It is not remarkable that good horses have been bred there, and the time has come when the woman who is responsible for much of the development of the region and the farmers who swear by her want to increase their supply of raw material and secure a still greater reputation for their finished product. With this purpose in view, the Genesee Horse Breeders' Association has asked the Jockey Club to place with it thoroughbred, half-bred or other good mares, which will be mated with the breeding bureau stallions. The project will come up before the Jockey Club at its annual meeting early in January, and already considerable missionary work has been done in connection with the proposition.

Lieutenant N. C. Shiverick, formerly of the Third Cavalry, who is associated with Mrs. Wadsworth in the Ashantee Stud, which is devoted to the breeding, training and development of hunters, and who is a finished horseman, discussed the plan at some length during a recent visit to New York.

"The degree of enthusiasm for the production of high-class horses in the Genesee Valley is remarkable," said he. "Every farmer in the community is a believer in the Jockey Club's policy for the improvement of the general purpose breed of horses through the thoroughbred top cross, but, unfortunately, some of them haven't mares of the proper type. Our association keeps in close touch with horse-breeding conditions, and at a recent meeting it was determined to ask the Jockey Club to send us or have their friends throughout the United States aid in contributing three hundred thoroughbred or other mares of proper type, pledging ourselves in turn to exercise the most watchful care, not only during the breeding period but at other times of the year, to see that the matrons were properly cared for, our plans calling for an inspection every four months.

"There must be many thoroughbred mares that have failed to come up to the expectations of their breeders in the production of speed," continued Lieutenant Shiverick. "These we should be glad to have, for if big-bodied and short-legged they would suit our requirements perfectly. If with foal when sent to us, and the foal should prove to be a good one, and a desire to repurchase the mare be expressed, the matter could be arranged on the pay-

PRICE McKINNEY AND JAMES CORRIGAN DETERMINED TO SUCCEED IN THEIR AMBITIOUS TURF VENTURE

By ED COLE

New York, November 22.—Price McKinney was here recently after a visit to the Kingston Farm in Kentucky to look over the racing stock owned by himself and his partner, James Corrigan. Speaking of the horses that they have bought and raised, Mr. McKinney wished it distinctly understood that the prevailing impression that he owned the horses alone was an error. "They belong to Jimmy and me," said he, "and he should be given the credit as well as myself. Jimmy is my partner in everything. We are fifty-fifty, and whatever the result of our enterprise it is share and share alike. My being the prominent figure in the purchasing of the horses led many to believe I am alone in the enterprise, but I am not. Mr. Corrigan and myself are partners, the horses will be raced in the interests of Corrigan & McKinney, and I should like Mr. Corrigan to be given an equal share of the credit for doing what little we can in the interest of the thoroughbred and the turf generally."

No better illustration of the disposition of Price McKinney can be offered than the foregoing request. "Fifty-fifty" is his motto in all things, which means a fair and square deal no matter whether it is in a horse or in business. Some of his associates say he brings back memories of that old drama, "My Partner," in which the senior member of the firm, when the division of spoils came, threw the lion's share of the nuggets into the sack of the man who had been his pal for so many years.

If there is one subject upon which Mr. McKinney likes to talk it is Kingston Farm in Kentucky and the horses thereon. "They are just beautiful to look upon," says he. "Only those who have had the experience can appreciate the pleasure there is in looking over a lot of thoroughbreds on a breeding farm. There are the long-legged, lanky sucklings and weanlings, the yearlings that are just beginning to look like race horses, then come their mothers and their majestic sires. I tell you, it is inspiring to watch them and make predictions as to their future. I suppose all breeders think they have a Futurity winner when they watch the youngsters playing around the paddocks. We may not have a Futurity winner at Kingston Farm, but there are twenty-six coming two-year-olds that will carry our colors next season, and if the predictions of Miss Baingefield, who has charge of them, are not awry, there are a few that will hold their own in any company. If yearling trials are any criterion, her deductions will not go far astray. "I cannot designate which are the best of the lot, though there are two or three which have shown exceptionally good trials," continued Mr. McKinney, ment of a sum that would compensate the association for the expense and trouble—say $200. The foal would, of course, belong to the donor of the mare. It disturbs me to let us have such nares as well as those that have gone wrong in the hunting field, or have been incapacitated in other ways, than have them sold for a pittance and end their days in drudgery. With our association they would be worked only enough to keep them healthy, and any abuses would mean their withdrawal and the expulsion of the offending member of the association. "Our plan is quite comprehensive," concluded Lieutenant Shiverick. "We want to establish everywhere the fact that the Genesee Valley is the home of good horses. The farmers who breed but who do not develop would be free to sell their foals as weanlings, but there are others who prepare for the market and turn out the finished product. We aim to be capable of taking care of any and all who may come to us to purchase horses of quality. If the individual hasn't what is required, he will be passed along to another member of the association, and he in turn to another until his wants are satisfied. We are anxiously awaiting the Jockey Club's answer to our appeal."

TIA JUANA PROJECT IS THREATENED.

In spite of the announcement by the promoters of the Tia Juana race track in lower California that the inaugural meeting will positively open on Christmas day and run 100 days, General Venustiano Carranza, provisional president of Mexico, is still determined that there will be racing in Lower California. When General Carranza learned several weeks ago that several San Franciscans were interested in financing the Tia Juana project he instructed his local consul-general, Ramon P. de Negri, to inform those persons that the Tia Juana concession was granted without authority and that the movement would be halted.

Consul-General de Negri said yesterday that he carried through the instructions of the Mexican

"at the same time there are some which have not yet done anything remarkable. It is safe to say, however, that as a whole the stock so far bred at Kingston Farm exceeds expectations, and I only hope that we shall have something approaching the great horses that were bred there in years past by the late James R. Keene. It is a high ambition, but there is nobody who can aim higher than Jimmy Corrigan and myself, when we are in the aiming business."

In answer to a question as to the sire of the most promising colt or filly, Mr. McKinney said he could not answer that at this time, as good results had been shown by every stallion on the farm, and it was hard to tell which was the most promising youngster. All the horses will be prepared for the spring meeting in Kentucky, except one or two that he has decided to send to Juarez. After being tried out in Kentucky those destined to take part in the eastern stakes will be shipped here.

"You will have to meet quite a number of selected horses from abroad in the two-year-old stakes next season," said Phil Dwyer, who was entertaining Mr. McKinney. "I don't care how many they bring over here, the more and better they are the greater the glory if we can beat them with our American stock. I shall take a crack at them, and if they beat me next year, I shall try again next year and the next if it is necessary. Jimmy Corrigan and I have decided to get the best horses possible, and if we fail it will not be for lack of effort."

President Field of the Pittsburgh Coal Company was a guest at the table in the Waldorf with Messrs. McKinney, Dwyer and others and, seeing the picture of the horse Roamer on a whisky bottle, asked the reason. Upon being told the whisky had been named after the little champion, he became more concerned, and while a horseman he listened attentively to the conversation. He became interested when Mr. Dwyer told him that he once owned Knight Errant, the sire of Roamer, and gave him to Woodford Clay. "Another story of a gift horse," said Mr. Field. "Yes, replied Mr. Dwyer, 'one never can tell what a race horse will do at times. I knew Knight Errant was a fair sort of horse, but had anyone predicted he would beget so stout a little horse as Roamer it would have been hard to agree with such a prediction. I have been in the racing business for about forty years, and I never saw a horse the equal of Roamer, considering his size and conformation. There have been better horses, but never was there one looking like him that was as good, you can bet on that.'"

department of foreign affairs, but that his warning was not needed. "If they will not listen the promoters will have to suffer the consequences," he said. "The Mexican government has been informed the men behind the movement to establish racing at Tia Juana that the concession was granted without the proper authorization of General Carranza. Within a few days Lower California will be taken by force and the building of the race track will be stopped."

The promoters of the Tia Juana race track are seemingly not placing much weight in General Carranza's warning. They have been going right along with the work of constructing a modern racing plant and extra men have been employed so that everything will be in readiness for the opening on Christmas day. The concession is held by Alberto Madrazo, a relative of the former president of Mexico, and was granted by Esteban Canto, who styles himself governor of Lower California.

George Crowley, who sold out his hotel in San Francisco to go to Tia Juana to become interested in the race meeting, and A. B. Spreckels are two of the local men who are financing the project and the claim that the concession was secured in good faith and if necessary, will carry their fight to the state department at Washington to protect their rights.

There was a rumor current in El Paso that General Carranza was opposed to permitting the Juarez meeting to open, but recent dispatches state that the provisional president is powerless to take action against the Mexican club. The Juarez meeting is in the power to respect the concession granted by a previous government.—San Francisco Chronicle.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

The value of the Australian Jockey Club's Derby to the winner this year was $22,295. Last year the winner's share was $22,080.

An El Paso jewelry house will present a valuable stickpin to the jockey riding the greatest number of winners during the first week of the Juarez meeting.

W. G. Yanke stopped over in Chicago yesterday on his way to Juarez. He reports that he has sold all of his horses except Brave, and this horse is lame and turned out for the winter.

Many are complaining that they are shut out frequently and cannot get their money down at Bowie. That is their own fault. They hold off until the last two or three minutes and then rush in and congest the machines. The great bulk of the money goes down in the last three minutes. If the public would place bets earlier there would be no trouble about getting down.—Baltimore News.

After hearing addresses to the jury from attorneys for both sides and taking under advisement a motion to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the herding of war horses was not a breach of contract, Justice Morschauser, in the Supreme Court at White Plains, N. Y., adjourned until Monday the trial of the suit of the Empire Racing Association to break the lease of the Empire track held by the National Fair and Exposition Association.

Work on the construction of a steeplechase course at the Mount Royal track at Montreal has been commenced. The course will be a circular one, laid out on the plans of the majority of steeplechase courses on the other mile tracks of Canada. The footing for the steeplechase will be as good as that for the track proper, and fast time should be made over it. The club will run a series of steeplechase races at its spring meeting next season.

The Futurity of 1916 closed with 528 entries. Of these 175 were void under the conditions of the race, 138 were declared November 1, 1915, at $10 each and sixty-six at $20 each. This leaves 149 now eligible. A further declaration is due July 15, 1916. Those which then remain in will furnish the field for the big race. Of those now eligible H. P. Whitney is the leader with seven entries, G. A. Cochran is second with fifteen and J. E. Madden third with twelve. Forget is represented by a chestnut filly by All Gold and Jersey Lightning by a chestnut colt by the same sire.

Although the turf campaign in Germany came to a close the first of this month, George Archibald, the Oakland, Cal., boy who succeeded in heading the list of the winning jockeys, will not return home as he did last fall. Mrs. Archibald has been informed that her son will stay in Berlin during the winter and be ready for the opening of the next racing season. The fact that Archibald would have only a month or so to stay with his mother, and further, that he does not want to subject his wife and infant daughter to the long trip, perhaps decided the American jockey in staying in Berlin.

SANGUINE HAVANA HOPES

BELIEF THAT THE COMING MEETING WILL BE A SUCCESS IN ALL RESPECTS.

Many More Horses and Better Class Horses Than Those at the Cuban Capital Last Winter Confidently Expected.

Baltimore, Md., November 22.—James Milton and Charles Lansdale, who are assisting Harry White in looking after the shipment of horses from Maryland to Cuba, are recent arrivals in Baltimore. Mr. Lansdale came from Cincinnati and Mr. Milton from Dallas, Texas. According to reports by these gentlemen, the Cuba-American Jockey Club is destined to enjoy a most prosperous season this winter. The interest being taken by horsemen in the meeting this year is simply marvellous. They apparently realize that the management is determined to make the meeting at Marianao rank with the best ever given at a winter racing point and that with this end in view they are making every concession to the horsemen to send their stables to the Cuban course.

Everything is being done by the management looking towards the comfort of horsemen and the action of the club in donating its share of whatever run-up money there may be in the selling races to the horsemen has met with great favor. It was certainly a most liberal and commendable move on the part of the club and it shows that they are determined that the horsemen shall not be harassed in any way by the parasites of the sport who come into the game during the last few years. The horsemen will not be subjected to any petty annoyances whatsoever. The shipping facilities to Havana have been greatly improved and the transportation is now of the best. Instead of antiquated Burton cars, big express cars are now being used for the transportation of the horses from Baltimore to Havana and judging from reports sent up by those who shipped from Cincinnati and Washington the excellent time schedule mapped out has been adhered to strictly by the different railroad companies. The Kentucky delegation has been on the grounds at Marianao for a week or so and the first Maryland special which departed on Tuesday evening arrived safely in Havana Friday morning. The big freight steamer Henry M. Plancher is now making daily trips from Key West to Havana, leaving Florida in the morning and returning from Cuba in the evening. The express cars are switched on to the boat at Key West and on their arrival in Havana are run out to the course at Marianao and unloaded at the big chute which has been built right at the stable gate.

With but one or two exceptions every horseman who raced in Cuba last winter has planned to return and this in itself speaks well for the sport. As to race followers, all who were there last winter are anxious to return. There are many attractions to draw them to the "Pearl of the Antilles," as Cuba has been aptly described. The beautiful bathing beach at Marianao was a favorite spot with racegoers last winter. Swimming machines, water polo and diving contests were enjoyed every morning before the races and almost every one of the racegoers who went to Cuba became good swimmers before they left the island. The water at Marianao Beach is as clear as crystal and one can see the bottom at any part of the beach. These salt water baths were not only very enjoyable, but healthful as well.

But to get back to racing. From the present outlook there will be more horses at Oriental Park this winter than last and they will also be of better class. The meeting has been well advertised all through the north and that the newspapers are beginning to realize the importance of racing in Cuba is shown by the fact that several turf correspondents will take in the Havana meeting this winter. Reservations are already being made on the boats and trains for the first two weeks in December and a great many who will afterwards go to other winter points have arranged to make the trip south via Havana, where they will remain for a week or ten days to enjoy the racing and the weather. Those who are making their first trip to Cuba have a surprise in store for them. They have little idea of the beautiful plant that has been constructed at Marianao or of the magnitude of the sport there. Now that the new drainage system has been completed and the track reggraded, Oriental Park is unquestionably the finest of all the winter race courses.

A big party will leave Baltimore for Cuba immediately following the close of the Bowie meeting. Among those who will make the trip are George Reardon, Willie Kerryhart, Tom Shaw, Peter McGrath, Ed Colell, Frank Racciacio, Fred Gay, Phil McKim, W. J. Lynch, Steve L'Hommiedieu, Tom Buckley, C. J. Odell, R. B. Stelle, Oscar Rockman, Claude Kyle, Fred Hayes, W. A. Port, J. J. McGraw, Col. James, Bill Chapman, Tom Costigan, Ed Soule, Mart Demorest, Tom O'Brien, Ernest Hall, Archie Zimmer, James Casey, Hart Denham, Joe Murphy, E. J. McGraw and C. O. Smith.

A big delegation is going from Canada again this winter. Jake Sanders, Jack Hare and Ching Hare will be on hand from Toronto and all three will cut in as layers. Eddie Colell will also book at Marianao and Stelle will be in line again. Stelle was probably the biggest winner among the layers who operated at Marianao last winter. Tom Shaw will probably sail from New York for Havana with his crew. Joe Blume is another who has signified his intention of booking.

FRENCH STAKES FOR NEXT YEAR.

A dispatch of yesterday from Paris says that the racing committee of the Society d'Encouragement, the governing body of flat racing in France, has fixed conditions of many of the principal events of the French turf from 1916 to 1919, in the hope that racing can be resumed over the principal French tracks next year. It is said that the conditions of various events have been considerably modified in various ways.

In respect to values, it is stated the Grand Prix de Paris is cut to 200,000 francs, or $40,000, guaranteed, a reduction of $20,000. The Prix du Jockey Club (French Derby) is kept at its former value of 100,000 francs or $20,000 added, but the Prix de Diane (French Oaks) is reduced from $15,000 to $12,000. Of other races of importance, the Prix du Cadran and the Prix Royal Oak had their values placed at $15,000 and $10,000 respectively, while the Prix Reiset and Prix des Acacias, each with $5,000 added, were dropped from the list of fixtures. Several events for three-year-olds, which before the war began were scheduled for an increase, remain at the old figures. No change has been made in entry fees or forfeits.

MACOMBER YEARLINGS IN ROUGH VOYAGE.

New York, November 22.—The steamship Lancasterian, on which are the imported horses belonging to Mr. A. K. Macomber and Irving H. Wheatcroft, is four days over due and not yet reported at the American Line office. "Just bad weather is the cause," said an official of the line today.

The case of the Empire City Racing Association versus the State Fair Association, concerning the nullification of the lease of the Empire City track, is still being argued at White Plains. On the decision of the courts will depend the future of racing over the Empire City course. This year the dates allotted to the Empire City track were run at Belmont Park and Aqueduct.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES OF THE DAY.

An Italian official statement issued at Rome yesterday said: Sunday was marked by an important success for our arms along the Isonzo front, especially on the heights northwest of Gorizia. We began the action at night by making, with great bravery, numerous breaches in extensive barbed-wire entanglements, defeating remarkably strong enemy intrenchments. At dawn our infantry, adequately supported by artillery, attacked the village of Oslavia and the heights to the north-east and southwest of the country lying across the route from San Floriano to Gorizia. The enemy offered an extremely obstinate resistance, but finally was driven back by the impetuosity of our attacks. He fled, leaving his trenches full of dead. We took 459 prisoners, many of whom were officers. Successive violent attacks by the Austrians advancing with shouts of "Savoia" for the purpose of deceiving our troops all were repulsed with irresistible energy. On the heights of Bodgora and Calvario, south of Oslavia, thanks to an admirable effort carried out under a formidable artillery fire, our troops took by main force two more lines of trenches and occupied almost the entire length of the summit. On the Carso plateau we continued our advance along the northern slopes of Monte S. Michele, because of the position of the Martino, where we dislodged the enemy from trench after trench, taking numerous prisoners.

New high records in the foreign trade of the United States continue to pile up the greatest favorable trade balance the country has ever known. The movement of merchandise and gold shown in figures made public yesterday by the department of commerce for the month of October established a new high record, rising to $334,638,578, which was $23,961,756 more than the former record made in September. October imports were $148,529,620. The record trade balance made during the month was $186,108,958. The previous high balance, made in February, was $174,000,000. During the twelve months ending with October, $226,528,779 in gold came to the United States to pay the debts of other nations.

The seizure of the American steamer Genesee by a British cruiser was reported to the American Transatlantic Company by the master, Find Rasmussen, from St. Lucia, British West Indies. Capt. Rasmussen, in a cable dispatch, said that the Genesee, which carried for the German government a cargo of coal for Montevideo, was taken to St. Lucia by a prize crew from the cruiser, Robert G. Wagner, president of the American Transatlantic Company, wired a protest against the seizure to Secretary of State Lansing at Washington. He requested Capt. Rasmussen to cable full details. The Genesee is owned by the German government and has the Hocking, seized by a British cruiser and taken into Halifax recently.

John Redmond's tour of the western front opened dramatically and almost ended fatally, according to the accounts forwarded to London by correspondents. Mr. Redmond was making an inspection of a battalion of the Royal Munster Fusiliers near the front when he was struck by a shell which appeared overhead just as Mr. Redmond arrived. The British artillery opened fire on the aeroplane from all directions and some shell fragments fell dangerously close to Mr. Redmond. The inspection was abruptly concluded. The Irish leader has been making speeches to the troops and they have been received with unbounded enthusiasm.

The report that the Serbians have won an important victory over the Bulgarians near Leskovatz on the Nish-Saloniki Railroad, twenty-five miles south of Nish, is corroborated in a dispatch received in Paris yesterday from the Serbian minister at Athens. The message says that after a battle of several days in which the Bulgarians sustained enormous losses, the remnants of the army fled in disorder to the eastern bank of the Morava river. The victory is regarded as a definite one, the message says, securing that part of the line from further attack for some time.

That General Carranza will countenance no election in Mexico until his forces have crushed all opposition was the opinion expressed by L. E. Moreno, secretary of state for Sonora who was in Los Angeles yesterday with a party of Sonora officials. In the party Mr. Moreno were Flavio A. Borquez, treasurer-general for Sonora; Ignacio Mandivil, secretary to the treasury; Arturo Gonzales, capitalist of Mexico, and Capt. L. Goldbourn, Y. Padilla, chief of the police forces of Sonora. They are en route to Guaymas.

A Washington dispatch of yesterday said: Greece's terms for entering the war on the side of the allies are that her army be re-enforced with 500,000 Anglo-French troops, or that a definite arrangement be concluded with Roumania for a joint Greek-Roumanian invasion of Bulgaria. A source close to the Greek legation making this statement today added that Greece would be forced to make her choice between the entente and the alliance within a few days.

The keenest interest has been aroused in Japan by Washington advices that representations have been made to China to induce her to join the entente alliance. It is believed the plan of the allies is to end an anti-Russian movement in Manchuria said to be fostered by the Germans. The forwarding of arms to Indian and Afghanistan and reported secret movements from Asiatic countries of war materials destined for Germany by way of the Americas.

Promoters of the congress which it has been proposed to hold at Berne, Switzerland, for the study of a basis of a durable peace have encountered another obstacle. The German delegates have given notice they will not attend the meeting announced for December 14, thus following the example of the French representatives. It is understood the Germans were instructed by their government not to participate in the proposed congress.

Rear Admiral Lawrence G. Boggs, U. S. N., retired, is dead at his home in Paris. He left the active service in 1908 after eighteen years of sea duty. He was born in the District of Columbia and entered the navy as an assistant paymaster September 25, 1880, because a past assistant paymaster in 1874 and was promoted to the rank of paymaster in 1886. He served for several years at the New York navy yard.

The Berlin Vossische Zeitung quotes M. Kuliksan, new Persian minister to Germany, as saying: While Persia is neutral, the Islamic sentiments and natural opposition to foreign oppression incline the people's sympathies to Germany against the Russians and British. It is doubtful whether the Russians will enter Teheran, as the British would not want to see them in the Persian capital.

The British steamships Merganser and Hallamshire have been sunk by German submarines. The crews were saved, it was announced. The Merganser, 1,905 tons, was owned by the Cork Steamship Company and sailed from Cork, Ireland. The Hallamshire was of 4,420 tons. Its home port was Glasgow.

The eruption of Stromboli volcano is assuming serious proportions and the population of the island is fleeing to places of safety. The sides of the volcano are cracking and streams of lava are flowing into the sea, raising immense columns of smoke which are visible at a distance of forty miles.

Official dispatches to the state department and the Carranza agency at Washington agree that General Villa lost in the battle at Alamito, Sonora.

more than 2,000 men, several pieces of artillery, many small arms, a large quantity of ammunition and two railway trains. Villa's forces fled and are being pursued by General Nieguetz.

Walter Tate, an English veterinarian, has been arrested at Provins, France, on the charge of using the American Red Cross as a lure to obtain gifts of money and clothing from charitably inclined persons in the United States and Great Britain.

Porter Charlton, the American who recently was tried at Como, Italy, on a charge of murdering his wife and who was found guilty and sentenced to six years and eight months' imprisonment, was released Sunday. He is in good health.

The British steamer Oakfield, bound from West Hartlepool, England, for an American port, is in distress about 600 miles southeast of Cape Race, N. F., according to a wireless message received at the Cape Race station yesterday.

A dispatch from Stockholm says that Lieutenant General Sansonoff, who commanded the Russians troops in the battle of Tannenberg, died a prisoner of war in Germany. His body is now in Stockholm on the way to Russia.

IMPORTANT ARRIVALS FROM ENGLAND.

The Philadelphia, which arrived last week, brought over some thirty yearlings which were purchased at the Newmarket sales for American owners. Ten in one lot were shipped to W. P. Guilmans, destined for Reno, Nev., but on the same ship came three fillies and two colts (all yearlings) for the well-known local turfman, R. T. Wilson; while the experienced and successful owner and trainer of race horses, C. T. Patterson, came over on the same ship, bringing eleven yearlings, colts of rare breeding for the stable of Frederick Johnson and C. K. G. Billings.

Mr. Wilson expects seven more, which will probably arrive late this week or early the following week. Mr. Coe has also come with the same ship and Harry Payne Whitney will have yearlings included in the same shipment. And the list already mentioned does not include all the American owners for whom valuable purchases have been made at Newmarket this fall, says a writer in the Morning Telegraph. Well-informed turfmen predict that the list will reach eighty and one hundred yearlings alone while it is well known that not a few of the prominent American breeders of race horses have agents constantly on the lookout for the purchase of a few really high-class sires.

When C. T. Patterson undertook the commission to buy yearlings for Messrs. Johnson and Billings he was given a rather free hand, and instructed to use his own judgment, and the result is seen in the splendid lot of youngsters which he now has under his care at Belmont Park.

The highest priced of this string of yearlings brought $5,700 at the Newmarket sales, and while a few of the offerings were knocked down at higher prices, it is conjectured that they were not actually sold. At all events it is a practically-established fact that this colt was the highest priced of any animal actually sold at the yearling sales. As compared with those now at Belmont Park, it may be said that this youngster, as they now stand, is the most taking individual. He is a son of the fashionable English sire, Tredennis, he by Kendall, himself a famous sire, and a son of Bend Or. This colt's dam was Ladytown by Gallinule. Thus it will be seen that he is inbred to the famous sire of Ormonde, the grandsire of Orme and the great grandsire of Flying Fox, one of the highest-priced horses of the century and sire of the champion.

This splendid colt is a bright golden chestnut, liberally marked with white, and like his world-famous ancestor, he has a cotton tail and mane. He is an impressive, upstanding colt of splendid size and substance and faultless racing angles. He has a clean, shapely head, fine and beautifully carried long, long muscular neck, finely arched and crested, prominent withers, rangy, oblique shoulders, great depth through the heart, a long barrel, short back and strong loin gracefully joined to rangy and powerful quarters with stifles and hocks well let down. His cannon bones are short, stout and shewy, and his pasterns are sufficiently long and oblique to give him ability to withstand the strain and wear and tear of hard training and racing under heavy imposts. He appears to have withstood the effects of his sixteen-day voyage on the Philadelphia admirably, although of course he is a trifle below show condition as far as flesh is concerned. This, however, has the effect of bringing his grand muscular development into noteworthy prominence, and the high spirit he evinces by his playfulness serves to prove that he has a splendid constitution combined with undaunted courage. All in all, this is a magnificent colt.

Another colt of rather exceptional merit as an individual is a dark bay or brown colt marked with a star and snip and three white feet. This youngster seems to have shipped remarkably well. He is relatively high in flesh and his coat is smooth and glossy. He is full of life and animation, has good size and rather more than ordinary substance.

Not so tall as some of the larger of his stablemates, he covers more ground than some which are considerably taller, and he has the conformation of a real race horse and stayer. He has an unusually long body, which is stout and cylindrical, a long and masculine looking neck and massive quarters which promise more than ordinary driving power. About the shoulders, arms, quarters, stifles and gaskins his muscles stand out with striking prominence. His whole make-up shows high finish and real race horse quality. In disposition he seems to be sprightly and docile. He is by Santry—Lilydale.

In the box next to the colt just described is a big, rangy chestnut colt with a narrow blaze and white feet on the outside, the white on the foreleg being exceptionally prominent, as it extends more than half way to the knee. This is another aristocrat as far as breeding is concerned. He is by Chaucer, and his dam was Ian, by St. Serf, he being as strongly inbred to St. Simon as the son of Tredennis is to Bend Or. This is one of the largest of the lot, indeed the largest of the band, and there can be no doubt that just now he gives promise of being a real race horse. Although he is rather low in flesh and wearing a rough coat, these disadvantages fail to conceal from the careful observer the fact that he is a colt of rare conformation and that in every outline high speed and a capacity to carry weight seem to have been contemplated in his design. His great length of bridle rein, the long backward slope of his withers, his broad muscular loin, the immense range of his quarters, and above all, his great length from the point of the hip to the hock, point in this direction. His leverage and driving power seem to be almost phenomenal. Added to this he has a deep, roomy chest, oblique shoulders, elastic pasterns and short, strong cannon bones. Next comes a dark bay colt by Foxglove, out of Eradine, by Sidus (son of St. Simon). This is a good sized colt having considerable substance, fair racing angles and a generally smooth conformation. He appears to have shipped well, and with a few days of careful grooming he should make an attractive appearance. He is a rich mahogany bay with solid colored points and with the exception of a small star is solid colored.

A bright chestnut colt liberally marked with white stands in the next box. He is by Marco, the sire of Neal Gow, out of a daughter of Persimmon. This is a rather lightly constructed but beautifully turned colt of exceptionally high finish and quality. The long sea voyage does not appear to have had any perceptibly unfavorable effect on him, for he is even now not far from show condition. He is full of animal spirits and looks like a youngster which would come early to hand and race creditably.

A bay colt by Spearmin, out of Snoot, by Perigord, son of St. Simon, is one of the smaller individuals of the shipment, and is in fair condition and of rather attractive finish. He is a dark bay and nearly or quite solid color.

Next comes a smallish chestnut colt with little if any white about him. He is by the now popular Sunstar, out of Falling Star, by Rightaway. Although fashionably bred, this colt is so small and undeveloped that it is difficult to pass anything like an accurate opinion of him. He is in good health, however, and by the time he shall have recovered from the effects of a long and rough sea voyage, it is not improbable that he may look like an individual well worthy of his aristocratic breeding.

Araja, by Ajax, out of Faverole, by Gallinule, is another youngster which appears to have suffered seriously from his long voyage. He is a bright chestnut colt with three white feet. He is a youngster of fine conformation and plenty of size, but he is low in flesh and has not yet rallied in spirits since his troublesome experiences on the Atlantic. Royally bred and showing many of the fine points and peculiarities of the Bend Or family, this colt should prove a valuable addition to the thoroughbred stock of this country, and when he regains his normal physical make-up it is not improbable that he may race well, but at present he is so far removed from fair show condition that it is not easy to pass judgment upon him.

Another chestnut colt by Rognelaure (he by Le Samaritan, out of Rock Sand's dam), out of Prude, by Meddler, is a handsomely turned youngster of fair size and more than ordinarily high finish. One of the really fine looking colts in this band is a large dark chestnut by Roi Herod, out of Alpha-bet. This is a rangy, long-bodied colt of fine conformation and plenty of substance. He carries a long bridle rein, has a long body and powerful quarters. He is of a distinctly masculine type and has the look of a weight carrier and a stayer. He has short cannon bones, of exceptional stoutness, and they are well backed by a wealth of strong, clean sinew.

Last comes a smallish dark bay colt by Cicero, out of Gollinotte, by Gallinule. This is a highly finished colt, extremely bloodlike and of admirable outline, although of much less masculine appearance than his stablemate just referred to. He has a small, deerlike head with a delicately tapered muzzle and small thin ears beautifully carried. Although not high in flesh he is full of animal spirits and will doubtless regain all that he lacks in condition within a week or ten days. Except that he is a trifle light in the bone below the knee, it would be difficult to find a serious fault with this somewhat diminutive youngster.

Five yearlings imported for R. T. Wilson are now at Belmont Park. Two of them are good sized colts and three are fillies, but as Mr. Wilson's trainer had no means of identifying them and knew nothing of their respective pedigrees, it is not necessary at present to attempt any description of them. The three colts, a chestnut and a brown, are really fine looking youngsters of good size and substance, while one of the fillies, a bay, appears to be right up with them in the matter of class.

ANNUAL RACING FORM

The International Authority on American Racing.

Circulating in the United States, Cuba,
Philippine Islands, Canada, Mexico,
England, France, Germany, Austro-
Hungary, Australia, India, Argentina,
Chile, Peru, etc., etc.

This Book Carries

Indexed form charts of all recognized racing in the United States, Canada, Cuba, and Mexico, has supplanted all others for the use of racing officials and is universally used by jockey clubs throughout the world. Compact, accurate, perfectly printed, with absolutely correct index, on linen paper, lettered, and bound in flexible leather. Contains, besides charts of all recognized racing on American tracks, the American and Canadian time records, scales of weights of various governing bodies and record of jockey mounts in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Cuba, for the year.

THE SPECIAL ATTENTION OF STUDENTS OF FORM

is directed to the method of indexing the charts.
The index shows each and every start of all horses that have raced, with firsts, seconds, thirds and track conditions designated on the occasion of each and every start. By means of this innovation it is possible for the user of the form book to instantly determine a horse's ability to run on any sort of track concerning which information is desired.

Annual Racing Form

has been oversold for the past few years and the attention of prospective purchasers of the 1915 edition is respectfully called to the desirability of placing orders early.
